MR. HU HAN-MIN INDISPOSED

High Blood Pressure
Returns

URGED TO REMAIN IN CANTON

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.
With a blood pressure of 180, Mr. Hu Han-min, Chairman of the Kuomintang C.E.C. Standing Committee, has to take a complete rest and may have to remain here for some time.

Although there were rumours to the contrary, Mr. Hu is really sick, according to those who visited him yesterday afternoon. Two doctors are treating him. When he spoke before the welcoming body at Chungshan Memorial Hall last Saturday, Mr. Hu emphasised that he was far from being a healthy person, but came back from Europe to do his bit in the national salvation.

General Chiang Kai-shek and other high Nanking officials urge Mr. Hu to proceed to the capital for medical treatment, but Mr. Hu has a home in Hong Kong and may go back there to recuperate.

It is learned that Mr. Hu discussed the political and international situation with his colleagues here, until his high blood pressure called a halt to further discussion. General Chen Chi-tang, the military chief here, urges Mr. Hu to remain in Canton longer, and General Li Chung-jen, Kwangsi military chief, it is said, holds the view that Mr. Hu can render better service to the Kuomintang by remaining in the South.

General Hsu Hsueh-chi, Vice-President of the Control Yuan, returned here last evening from Hong Kong upon learning of Mr. Hu's illness.

ITALY TO MAINTAIN HER
LOCARNO ENGAGEMENTS

Paris, To-day.

It is understood that the French Government is concerned at the question of Germany and the demilitarised zone, and that M. Flaminio Piccoli is anxious to obtain the British viewpoint on the matter.

It is learned that M. Laval, before resigning, asked Italy what would be her attitude if Germany broke her engagements as regards the zone. He received a favourable reply, to the effect that Italy would maintain her Locarno engagements and as she had only seven divisions engaged in Abyssinia, she did not lack men.

TRIBUTE TO LATE
SOLICITOR

SUPREME COURT
CEREMONY

MR. ALFRED E. HALL

A very impressive ceremony was held at the Supreme Court this morning when the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Lindell, who sat together with the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice Hayden, paid a tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Alfred E. Hall, who passed away in Canton last week.

Mr. Justice Lindell, in addressing the large gathering of the legal profession who had assembled in Court for that purpose, said:

"Mr. Attorney,

"The Court is sitting specially this morning to take notice of the loss the legal community sustained last week by the death of the late Mr. A. E. Hall. "Owing to the lamented death of His late Majesty, King George V, and the Chinese New Year holidays following thereon, it has been impossible to hold this session earlier.

ENFORCED RETIREMENT

"Mr. Hall was a member of an old and respected Hong Kong family and followed in his father's footsteps in the study of law. He was a solicitor of the Supreme Court of England. He was admitted here in 1917 and he continued to practice until a few years ago when failing health caused him, when still a comparatively young man, to retire.

"Before he fell ill I had the pleasure to know him not only as a capable advocate but also as a reliable friend."

ALEXANDER ZOUBOFF'S
DEATH

Luxembourg, To-day. The death has occurred, at the age of 35, of the Russian refugee Alexander Zouboff, who married the ex-Kaiser's late sister, Princess Victoria of Prussia, in 1927 and left her penniless two years afterwards. Zouboff had been a circus performer, a writer and latterly a luggage porter at a cafe.

The snow, sleet and sub-freezing temperature which blasted the Atlantic seaboard last month also covered Atlanta, Georgia, streets with a glistening coat of ice. Although Georgia's climes are usually thought of as a part of the sunny South, this view looks more like a New England scene.

SOMBRE SCENES AT ROYAL FUNERAL

London, To-day.

A vast multitude paid their final homage to King George V when his mortal remains were borne in a funeral procession through the streets of London and were buried yesterday afternoon in St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, in the presence of a congregation including world-wide representatives of the lands where his memory is honoured. The coffin, draped in the Royal Standard and surmounted by the Imperial Crown, the Orb and Sceptre, and the insignia of the Order of the Garter, rested on a gun-carriage drawn by a naval gun's crew. Upon it rested a single floral emblem placed there by the mourning Queen.

As the mile-long procession began its slow march from Westminster Hall, the first of 70 minute guns was fired in Hyde Park. At its head walked the escort of Royal Horse Guards, supported by the bands of the 3rd Carabiniers and of the Household Cavalry, and by (Continued on Page 7)

RED SUCCESS

NANKING TROOPS
ATTACKED

2,000 CASUALTIES REPORTED

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.
After causing 2,000 casualties among the Nanking troops, the Communists in Kweichow were reported last night to have captured Ma Cheung Ping and Kwei Ting, the latter being 30 miles east of Kwei Yang, the provincial capital, where panic is prevailing.

One brigade of Yunnan troops reached Kwei Yang today to strengthen the garrison of 2,000 there. Some Kwangsi troops are said to be moving up from Kwangsi to join in the campaign against the Reds, but such reports have appeared daily in the Chinese newspapers for the past three weeks.

General Chiang Kai-shek, Chairman of the Military Affairs Commission, has ordered that Kwei Yang be defended at all costs. All the garrison will take up their positions on the outskirts of the city, while the principal streets are to be patrolled by the militia.

In the event of the Communist occupation of Kwei Yang, the Nanking troops will have to retire southward towards Kwangsi or Yunnan. In view of the sweeping victories of the Reds, the fall of Kwei Yang at any moment would not be unexpected.
